

Army Research Lab + DIUX Conference

STUART YOUNG

Chief, Asset Control & Behavior Branch at the ARL

The army is looking for “non-traditional defense suppliers and innovative small businesses”

He expressed interest in “autonomous, low-altitude air vehicles” that could “communicate with ground forces” for military and disaster relief (SAR) applications

He said “terrestrial robots, on their own, are unable to perform surveillance and inspection of all environments”

